

THE Gleichen Call

THIRTEENTH YEAR, NO. 6

GLEICHEN, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, MAY 1, 1919

$1.50 Per Year

Standard Items

Mr. Gronlund reached here from Chicago last week.

Mrs. Olsen of Standard, is happy over the birth of a son.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Hansen of Standard are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Kerrison of Standard, are rejoicing over the birth of a daughter at their home.

Mr. Halkier, a prominent farmer from the Yorkton District, arrived last week to take up his new position in the Atlas Lumber Co.

Mr. Horton, sen., is building an up-to-date bungalow on his farm west of Standard.

F. Sheehy, contractor and builder, arrived from the Western States last week. He is looking forward for a good season.

Wilhelm Madson, painter and decorator, arrived from Chicago last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiche arrived from the coast last week where they have spent their honeymoon. Mr. Hiche is going to take over the management of Mr. N. P. Nielson's farm at Chancellor.

Ole P. Larsen, for several years the owner of the Standard Hardware Store, has sold out to the well-known Hagens Bros. of Standard.

D. Syendson, our local contractor and builder has a big contract on at Hussar at present.

Messrs. Fred and Lois Christensen have opened up an up-to-date butcher shop on Main street. The children of the schools around Standard are busy drawing plans of houses and barns for the big drawing contest put up by the Crown Lumber Co., Ltd.

Seeding around Standard is in full swing this week and if the weather stays dry will be completed by the end of the present week.

Mrs. Messenger brought home from Calgary the other day a pretty baby, which she has adopted. The little daughter was christened in the Union church last Sunday. A good example to follow.

Mr. and Mrs. Skov Westergaard have opened up a quick lunch on the Main street.

Mr. Werne of the Scandinavian Bureau came back from Calgary last week.

The Canadian Pacific Railway have promised Standard a little better train service this week.

The Standard post office was robbed the other night by a professional safe breaker, wearing size 8 overshoes.

Mr. Potter of the well-known real estate firm of Johnson & Potter in Calgary, was a flying visitor to our town last week.

The Ladies Aid Society held a very successful bazaar in the Standard school on Saturday afternoon. Coffee was served and a very pleasant time spent.

Enevold Kier, the proprietor of the Standard Livery and Feed Stable, met with a bad accident on Thursday. A horse kicked him. He is now walking on crutches.

Gleichen Assessment $944,852 Asks What Monument Committee is Doing

Rate Set at 40 Mills to Raise $23,791

Nine appeals were heard last Friday evening by the Town Council Court of Revision and amicably settled. It was a long session and, in fact, was completed at an adjourned meeting held Monday night.

After making the corrections allowed in the appeals it was shown the estimated expenditures for the Town and School District amounted to $23,791.41, and the assessed value $944,852. In order to meet the estimated expenditures a total rate of 40 mills on the dollar would be necessary; which was divided, making the School rate 8 mills and the town 32 mills. Which is the same rate as last year.

Accordingly By-Law No. 98 was passed fixing the mill rate at the amount stated and providing for tax collections. By-Law No. 98 provides a business tax at the same rate as last year of on the rental value. While By-Law No. 95 grants a rebate of 10 per cent for taxes paid by May 31st and 5 per cent to June 30th.

The health officers report on inspection of premises was accepted. As the Council and School Trustees do not provide as elsewhere to make legal public announcement of how the estimated expenditures are arrived at The Call has obtained a statement prepared by the secretary on some letter heads printed out of town (while The Call is asked $40 a year for the privilege of doing this class of work and about $100 more to live here), which we now supply free of charge:

"The Universal Half-Holiday Act" provides for a half-holiday in each week throughout Alberta for all employees except in farming and thrashing, beginning at 12 o'clock noon. For infringement of this act a penalty of $50 is provided for each offence. The half-holiday may be any day in the week. The Call will, therefore, close at noon each Saturday.

Editor Gleichen Call:

Dear Sir,—As a subscriber to the Gleichen and District Soldiers Memorial Fund may I ask those in charge what is being done in the matter?

I do not wish to embarrass any one for I am most anxious to see this an accomplished fact by the time the boys are all home. Now that the Fair will be held in August there seems no good reason why the monument should not be complete by then, when all could unite on the Fair dates and give our boys a fitting and royal welcome home.

When in Gleichen last week I made a few enquiries as to what had been done but no one could give me any definite information and advised me see a certain man whom I learned was out of town and a very busy man at present.

As I understand there are a number on the committee I would like to know why the others do not get busy and relieve this one of some of the work. It should not require very strenuous efforts to get an estimate of the cost and award the contract.

I am writing this letter mainly because many are complaining of inaction who have subscribed and others say they will not subscribe until something more definite of the cost is forthcoming, arguing the committee has now had ample time in which to make public the estimated cost of the monument.

Personally I fear we are losing by delay and not keeping the public informed of all the committee is doing.

Yours truly,
A SUBSCRIBER.

Namaka Doings

Wheat seeding is just finished in this district. The farmers report the land in splendid condition.

Namaka's soldier boys are rapidly returning home and settling down to work again on the land. H. R. Lawrie, with his bride and family, is expected to arrive very shortly.

A surprise party took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Biggar on Thursday last. "Bobbie", who is very popular in the district, returned home with his bride on Monday evening. On Thursday his friends arranged a real surprise party and the whole neighborhood turned out in auto. First they surrounded the house and turned all lights on at the same time and made all the noise that tin cans, etc., could be persuaded to supply. They then went in the house and spent a very pleasant evening after wishing the bride and bridegroom all happiness.

Canada's War Debt

The next big task is to place Dominion trade full on its feet. Talk of making trade normal again will not do. To go back to what was normal before the war would lead to sheer national bankruptcy.

Dominion war debts have gone up roundly to one and a half billion dollars. The per capita debt in 1914 was $46; today it is $270. Indebtedness abroad is such that we have to remit to foreign countries considerably over half a million dollars a day.

Larger exports chiefly will bring in more money, because in the last term exports alone pay for imports.

Hand in hand with this should go less buying abroad of those things we can produce in field and factory in Canada. Over $400,000,000 a year is spent on goods from the United States alone which, with a little extra effort, might be made in the Dominion.

Organizing Peace Scale

The Canadian Trade Commission points out plainly the danger of indifference to our financial position. It declares that the country must organize its peace trade on a wartime scale. In securing foreign orders the old competitive system must give way to co-operative methods. Business men must act together to get the outside trade and then sub-divide it among their factories in the way which makes for the best interest of our own people, giving steady employment for fifty-two weeks in the year to all who are willing to undertake a full day's work for a full day's pay.

Let everyone in the Dominion take up the slogan "Buy Canadian-made Goods"—to redeem Canada's financial obligations, "for the glorious privilege of being independent."

Teachers Attention

The Alberta Teachers' Association has decided to hold the Annual Spring Convention this year because of the recent epidemic. This decision prevents us from having our usual Alumni function.

The Executive has decided to hold a "Silent Banquet" in honor of Our Boys, who were members of our Association, and who so willingly offered their all on the fields of Europe.

Each member is requested to send in a subscription of $1.00 to be used in placing in the Canmore School a suitable Memorial to our fallen heroes. It is also decided to place in the library of the school an enlarged group of all our members who enlisted for overseas service.

It is hoped by the Executive that each member will take this notice as a personal appeal, and also bring it to the attention of any member not so reached, that all may have a part in this undertaking.

The above subscription should be forwarded to Earl Samis, temporary Secretary-Treasurer, care of Educational Department, Edmonton, not later than May 31st.

General Townsend's Historic Message

Fitting Climax to His Services in Turkey

It must have been a great satisfaction to General Townsend, who was commander at Kut-el-Amara when the British were forced to surrender to the Turks, to be chosen by the Turkish authorities to convey to the British admiralty a message signifying the willingness of the Turkish government to accept an armistice and lay down their arms.

It has been a long and dreary wait for General Townsend and his fellow British prisoners of war, but there is little doubt that they never lost heart, or confidence in the ultimate triumph of the British arms, and have been looking forward to the day when their Turkish captors would in turn be forced to surrender, and surrender, not because of untoward circumstances over which they had no direct control, but forced to an unconditional surrender through utter and complete defeat.

The work which General Townsend and Maude began is being completed by General Allenby. The unconditional surrender of Turkey to the British is the beginning of the end of Turkish misrule which for centuries has continued to the everlasting disgrace of the civilized and Christian nations of the world. At last the Crescent is giving way before the Cross and the flag of freedom, our own glorious Union Jack, supplants the old Turkish emblem of oppression, cruelty and massacre.

Never again will the Turk be allowed to work his will on the people of Armenia; never again will the Holy Land be polluted by his presence. And to be the bearer of the message to the world containing the glad tidings that these things will shortly be—that the Turks had bowed to the inevitable and admitted their defeat—was surely some recompense to General Townsend for all that he has undergone in recent years. It was a fitting climax to his services in that far-off theatre of the war.—Regina Leader.

The Food Value of Cheese

Cheese is the only real substitute for meat. Bread and cheese is, indeed, a most perfect diet. Men have habitually done many hours' hard manual work with bread and cheese as their chief food. Margarine is a fairly satisfactory alternative for butter. There is no substitute for cheese. The two principal dairying provinces of Canada are Quebec and Ontario, the former leading in the production of creamery butter and the latter in the production of factory cheese. Out of a total of 3,446 creameries and cheese factories in Canada, 1,984 are in Quebec. The total number of patrons or dairy farmers, supplying milk and cream is 221,192 of whom 79,145 are in Quebec.

Painting Salmon Red

Very Successful Until Health Authorities Interfered

Red is the preferred color for salmon flesh. It is the "dog" salmon's misfortune to have meat of a dirty grayish hue, so that it is almost unmarketable.

Recently, however, a fish dealer in Boston made a delightful discovery. It was that some salmon-colored paint (which he happened to be using for painting a truck) would transform a dog salmon offhand into a fish of the most expensive variety. The way it worked was really remarkable. It appears that the stuff was a coal tar product, and when freely applied with a brush so saturated the meat with dye as to give it a fine salmon-red tint clear through.

Unfortunately, the local health authorities, lacking appreciation of the fine arts, seized the fish and the paint, and shut up the studio.

Corns cause much suffering, but Holloway's Corn Cure offers a speedy, sure, and satisfactory relief.

A Royal Blunder

London's Mulberry trees, which have just rendered their first fruits to the lord mayor, are supposed to derive from an attempt of James I. to furnish a supply of home-grown silk for the Spitalfields weavers, with which laudable object he not only planted the tree all over London, but distributed them in the provinces. One of the number thus grown was the famous "Millon's Mulberry tree" at Christ Church, Cambridge. But unfortunately our British Solomon did not explore his subject deeply enough, for he planted not the white mulberry, which the silkworm favors, but the black variety which it dislikes!

Sold Flags to Belgians

Han Did Surreptitious Business With Public of Zeebrugge Before Leaving

When the Germans withdrew hastily from the north seashore of Belgium they left behind a series of fortifications all the way from Zeebrugge to Nieuport.

The entire shore is one continuous line of redoubts, reinforced concrete dugouts, trenches and barbed wire entanglements, with gun pits about every 50 yards. The Germans carried off most of the guns, but they reloaded so hastily they had to leave a large number behind. An old woman resident of the town told the correspondent, who wondered at the profusion of Belgian flags, that a German trader had visited Ostend some days before the evacuation and surreptitiously sold thousands of Belgian flags. "Is this not truly German?" she asked.

Many other residents had hidden their Belgian flags from the invaders.

When Alberta Was a Ranch

Interspersed With Beautiful Mountain Streams and Lakes

Alberta in 1882 was, says Mr. A. S. Carlos, writing in the Edmonton Bulletin, one immense range, interspersed with beautiful clear mountain streams, lakes and springs. Fort Macleod, Calgary and Edmonton were the only places of any importance—three genuine western towns.

In 1882 and 1884 many large ranches were established in the Macleod country. At Pincher Creek, 30 miles southwest, there were many small ranches which carried from three hundred head, besides the large concerns, such as the Cochrane, the Waldron and Winder in the Porcupine Hills north of Pincher Creek. Thirty miles north of Macleod was Leavings, headquarters for the Winder ranch on Willow Creek. The Cochrane ranch people, besides having a ranch southwest of Macleod, had a lease of all the country from Shaganappi Point, three miles west of the present C.P.R. station, to Morleyville.

On Sale Everywhere.—There may be country merchants who do not keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, though they are few and far between, and these may suggest that some other oil is just as good. Wonderful Model Dwellings for Artisans Erected in Rome

In answer to a plea for the "nursery school," a correspondent, writing to the Scotsman, points out that at least in one country in Europe ideal home and attention for the little ones are provided. "I refer," he continues, "to the wonderful model dwellings for artisans erected in Rome in pre-war days by Signor Talamo, engineer and social worker who, with a limited liability company in Rome—over 60,000 persons. The dwellings consist of large blocks built round a square, with gardens, and a large green in the inner quadrangle. All are fitted with electric light, steam heating, and hot water. Stringent regulations as to cleanliness are enforced, and so all are kept fresh and airy. Good baths are installed, for which a small charge is made, and many household arrangements which space prevents me from quoting. For the needs of the over-worked mother, and the little ones from 3-6 years of age a nursery school with mistress and assistants is provided on the premises, and teaching given on the Montessori method. Attendance varies from 40-70. Medical care and skilled nursing are given free of charge to the little ones. The rental is about $2 per month for each room, and houses are of 2, 3 or 4 rooms. The system is run on co-operative lines, and is a sound business concern. Of its priceless value in the uplifting of the workers, educationally, morally, and physically, words fail to express."

Believed in Signs

An elderly farmer hitched his team to a telegraph post. "Here," exclaimed the policeman, "you can't hitch there!" "Can't hitch?" shouted the irate farmer. "Well, why have you a sign up, 'Fine for Hitching'?"—Presbyterian Standard.

Stately Swan Can Put a Spurt on When Required

Inland lakes and water holes bounded by swamps are the favorite nesting places of the Australian swan, says a correspondent in the Sydney Bulletin. On the still water they construct a huge raft of air-filled reeds which, with rushes and grass piled upon it, would weigh tons and is sufficiently buoyant to support the weight of a man. In a basin-shaped hollow on top, from ten to fifteen large white clogs are laid, to guard which from raids of the swamp hawk, the owner of the tenement has a worryful time. On Black Lake, near Bibbenlake, N. S. W., I once watched persistent efforts of the burglar to secure for himself an omelet. He hovered watchfully above until the swan dived under the water for food. Then he swooped for the nest. It was then I learned that the usually slow and stately swan can put a spurt on when required. With long neck angrily outstretched, she shot over the surface of the lake with the speed of a torpedo. There was a whirlwind of flappings and a drift of feathers through the air. Then a much bedraggled hawk, corkcrested aloft, and the trumpeters along the lake blew a great rally for the lady.

Honor President

Czecho-Slovaks Change Capital to "Wilsonstadt"

The Czecho-Slovak council of state has decided to make Pressburg the capital of Slovakia. Pressburg is situated on the north bank of the Danube, 34 miles south-east of Vienna. It is beautifully situated near the western extremity of the Carpathians, and is one of the finest cities in Hungary. Hungarian kings were crowned at the Cathedral of St. Martin at Pressburg for centuries. The population of the city in 1900 was 61,537. It was announced recently that the Czecho-Slovak council had changed the name of Pressburg to Wilsonstadt in honor of President Wilson.

Angry At Small Penalty

Great indignation has been aroused in Switzerland because a sentence of only three months in a fortress has been given the German aviator who on October 8 shot down an unarmed Swiss captive balloon on Swiss territory. The Swiss lieutenant in the balloon was killed.

V. C. Heroes of the War

During the past four years of the war no fewer than 474 Victoria Crosses have been awarded for deeds of valor. In the first year of war 83 Crosses were awarded, and the second year furnished 78. With the enormous growth of the British fighting forces in all the theatres of war the number increased to 145 in the third year, and there was another rise to 168 in the fourth year. Compared with such a record the 182 V. C.'s for the Indian Mutiny, 11 for the Crimean War, and 78 for the South African War seem insignificant, but in comparison to the number of troops engaged the Crosses awarded during the last four years have been fewer than in previous wars.

CHILDHOOD AILMENTS

The ailments of childhood—constipation, indigestion, colic, colds, etc.—can be quickly banished through the use of Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative which sweeten the stomach, the bowels and the stomach. They are guaranteed to contain no harmful drugs and can be given to the youngest baby with perfect safety. Concerning them Mrs. Alcide Lepage, Ste. Beatrix, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets were of great help to my baby. They regulated her bowels and stomach and made her plump and well." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 2c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Josh Billings on Milk

"Your note on Josh Billings," writes a subscriber to the New York Outlook, "reminds me that, while a young college student, I heard Josh Billings deliver his lecture 'On Milk.' He had placed on the platform table a pitcher and a glass. As soon as he was introduced, he poured milk from the pitcher into the glass, took it and looked at it, and said: 'I have seen several articles on milk; I have read some facts written on milk; but the best thing I ever saw on milk was cream.' Then he drank it and went on with his lecture. He did not mention or refer to milk in any way again. His lecture consisted of an unrelated collection of pithy sayings which held his audience to the end."

Taken Prisoner by Ruse
Supplied With Tobacco and Bread by Americans—Eager for Larger Shares

Americans now count among their prisoners fifty-one members of the second German Landwehr, who are the most sadly disillusioned men from the German emperor's army. The men still are convinced that they were played a shabby trick in being taken prisoner, though they are quickly becoming reconciled to their lot by their generous rations of food and tobacco.

The Germans for several days had been coming forward unarmed out of their trenches, creeping forward to a point midway between the two lines, where they had been given bread and tobacco.

The other day when they came over they were told that the next time each man would receive five sacks of tobacco instead of one sack. The opportunity was too good to be lost and instead of groups of three, four and five, as heretofore, fifty-one men came in a group, eager for the tobacco and food.

The Germans were hospitably received at the customary rendezvous, placed into small groups and invited to come to another spot where the distribution would take place. That spot proved to be the intelligence office of the American division, where the Landwehrs were informed that they were prisoners.

The Germans indignantly demanded to be sent back to their lines immediately, together with their rations of five sacks of tobacco and bread, but they gradually came to renounce their demand that they be returned, especially when they saw the treatment accorded to the American soldiers to them and even to the other prisoners. The Landwehr will receive their extra rations as per promise.

So Annoying

The latest example of English as she is spoken, comes from Egypt, where a native interpreter, who had overstayed his leave, wrote the following letter to his chief:

"My absence is impossible. Someone has removed my wife. My! but I am annoyed."—New York Sun.

"Whatever is the Matter, Jack, You Don't Look Well!"

"Oh, I'm all right."
"But you're not. You look so worried and tired."

"Well, I haven't been sleeping very well lately."

"No, and you don't seem to have any appetite. I think you ought to take something to tone up your system."

"Oh, no, I don't need any medicine. I guess I will soon be all right."

"But you should not neglect yourself, for that is just the way I was before I had nervous prostration, and you know what a long time I was laid up."

"Well, I haven't any time to be laid up, that's a sure thing."

"I know what I am going to do. I am going to buy half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and see that you take it regularly."

"You know, Jack, that nothing seemed to help me like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I am sure it will be just as good for you."

"You will take it, won't you?"

"I'll do most anything to get feeling better, for I know I have been losing my grip on business lately."

"I get up feeling tired in the mornings, and have to drive myself to do the work that used to be a pleasure for me. I have got in the way of putting off matters that need attention, and hate to meet people when I know that some energy will be required to discuss business deals, with them."

"You'll take the Nerve Food, won't you?"

"Oh, I'll let you be the doctor, and if the Nerve Food builds me up like it did you I'll soon get back my old-time vigor and be able to make things hum. I have been rather discouraged lately, but I can see now that the trouble is in the condition of my nervous system. So you get the Nerve Food and we'll see what it will do."

Less Buying Abroad

The next big task is to place Dominion trade full on its feet.

Talk of making trade normal again will not do. To go back to what was normal before the war would lead to sheer national bankruptcy.

Dominion war debts have gone up roundly to one and a half billion dollars. The per capita debt in 1914 was $46; today it is $270. Indebtedness abroad is such that we have to remit to foreign countries considerably over half a million dollars a day.

Larger exports chiefly will bring in more money, because in the last term exports alone pay for imports.

Hand in hand with this should go less buying abroad of those things we can produce in field and factory in Canada. Over $400,000,000 a year is spent on things from the United States alone which, with a little extra effort, might be made in the Dominion.

The Canadian Trade Commission points out plainly the danger of indifference to our financial position. It declares that the country must organize its peace trade on a war time scale. In securing foreign orders the old competitive system must give way to co-operative methods. Business men must act together to get the outside trade and then sub-divide it among their factories in the way which makes for the best interest of our own people, giving steady employment for fifty-two weeks in the year to all who are willing to undertake a full day's work for a full day's pay.

Let everyone in the Dominion take up the slogan, "Buy Canadian-made Goods"—to redeem Canada's financial obligations, "...for the glorious privilege Of being independent."

As a first step to bringing before the public the importance of means for the training of younger men to take up foreign trade work, the Trade Commission has written to all the Canadian universities asking if they can give their immediate support by establishing, this summer, short courses for business men and students featuring especially aspects of foreign trade.

Help the Y.M.C.A. Finish its Work For Soldiers

Help the "Y" Construct the Manhood that will Re-construct Canada

ALL the world now knows that the Red Triangle of the Y.M.C.A. was the "Sign of Friendship" to thousands of your brothers, sons, nephews, cousins and neighbours' boys in the last four and a half years. Wherever the Canadian Soldiers went, the "Good old 'Y'" went too. And now it is coming back home with them!

For the support which has made possible the war work of the Y.M.C.A. we thank you. Your money has been well expended. We have rendered full account.

We ask now your continued sympathy and support for Red Triangle Service for our Soldiers during demobilization, and for Y.M.C.A. work for Canada generally during the Reconstruction period. The Annual Red Triangle campaign will be held throughout Canada May 5th to 9th, 1919. The objective is $1,100,000.

The Y.M.C.A. will keep its chain of service unbroken till the end.

For Our Men Returning

For the soldiers and their dependents, returning from Overseas, we have provided as follows:—

1. A Red Triangle man on board every ship when it leaves Great Britain, with a full equipment of games, gramophones and records, magic lantern, literature and writing materials. Where possible, also a piano or an organ. Lectures, concerts, sing songs, instruction re Government repatriation plans, and Sunday Services.
2. Red Triangle comforts and facilities for the men on arrival at Halifax, St. John, Quebec and Montreal, including coffee stalls, with free drinks, free canteens, cigarettes, candies, etc.
3. Red Triangle men on every troop train to provide regularly free drinks, canteens and cigarettes, organize games and sing songs, and furnish information.
4. Red Triangle free canteen service, information bureau, etc., at each of the 22 Dispersal centres in Canada.
5. Red Triangle Clubs in the principal cities of Canada in the shape of large Y.M.C.A. hostels to furnish bed and board at low rates and to be a rendezvous for soldiers.
6. Seventy-five Secretaries to superintend Red Triangle service in Military Hospitals, Camps and Barracks throughout Canada.
7. Tickets entitling soldiers to full Y.M.C.A. privileges for six months at any local Y.M.C.A. furnished.

In addition to our work for the returning soldiers, we have to maintain the Red Triangle service to the full for the soldiers in Siberia, as well as the work of special secretaries in Northern Russia, Palestine and Poland.

For Canada's Manhood

The Reconstruction program of the Y.M.C.A. includes the following vitally important developments:—

1. An increased service to 300,000 teen-age boys in the Dominion—the development of Canadian Standard Efficiency training; Bible Study groups; summer camps; conferences; service for High School boys, for working boys, in the towns and cities; for boys on the farm and for boys everywhere, who have lacked opportunity for mental, moral, physical or social development.
2. Inauguration of Y.M.C.A. work in the country, and the smaller towns and villages lacking Association buildings and equipment, on a plan of county organizations. This will include the establishment of Red Triangle centres for social, recreational and educational work among boys and men, in co-operation with the churches.
3. The promotion of Y.M.C.A. work among Canada's army of workers in industrial plants, both in Y.M.C.A. buildings and in the factory buildings, organizing the social spirit among the industrial workers of our cities by meetings, entertainments, games and sports.
4. The establishment of the Red Triangle in isolated districts where lumbermen, miners and other workers hold the front trenches of industry.
5. Besides these main fields of increased activity for 1919, we have to provide for enlarged work among railway men, college students and for our campaign to encourage physical and sex education. Under all our work we place the fundamental foundation of manly Christianity.

Y.W.C.A.

For the wives and children Overseas, dependent upon Canadian soldiers, and for Y.W.C.A. work in Canada generally, a sum of $175,000 from the Red Triangle Fund will be set aside for the Dominion Council of the Y.W.C.A., which is caring for the soldiers' women folk, and their little ones on the long journey from Liverpool to Canada, and is also extending its work for Canadian girls.

For their sake also be generous when you make your contribution.

FOR the sake of our victorious soldiers and their dependents, and the happiness of their home-coming; for the sake of our future citizens, our teen-age boys; for the sake of rural life in Canada; for the sake of the social betterment of the toilers in factory and workshop; for the sake of lonely men and boys in our mines and forests; for the sake of Christian Society and Canadian manhood—we appeal to you. Give us your contribution, little or big. Be as generous as you can.

Hand your contribution to the canvasser when he calls, or if you live where it is difficult for him to call, send it by check, money order or registered letter to the National Treasurer, Red Triangle Campaign, 120 Bay Street, Toronto.

Please Note:

We are not asking for money to carry on our work Overseas, with the Army in Great Britain, France or Belgium. That work will continue at its maximum for some months, financially provided for by the liquidation of our assets Overseas, and will not terminate till the last man has sailed for home.

LARGEST CONCERN OF THIS KIND IN THE WEST

Government to Spend $32,000 Draft Horses

The Alberta provincial government is taking a hand in the further improvement of draft horse breeding, and has announced its intention of spending $35,000 for the purchase of two stallions, one Clydesdale and one Percheron, for breeding purposes. In co-operation with the provincial and federal breed associations these stallions will be bought, and will represent a class of sire that has been thoroughly proven. The best studs of Scotland and France respectively will be visited and purchases made by competent authorities with the object of securing a private individual could possibly afford to buy. These sires will then be bred to selected mares of each breed, and the male progeny given such care as should produce sires of a very superior order. This is believed to be the most effective method of government assistance to supply a province with a reasonable number of high-class sires in a comparatively short time.

Alberta horses have become famous for their endurance, lung power, clean bone, and perfect freedom from hereditary and other diseases. Clydesdales are in the majority, though Percherons are a good second in the draft horse class. The largest and finest stud of pure Percheron in the world is located at Namaka in Alberta. From this ranch a few months ago more than twenty pure-bred animals were sent to England in one shipment.

TEETH AND HEALTH

Prevent Diseased Teeth and Gums Thus Benefit Your Health

If people would really keep their teeth clean and have them examined regularly by a dentist twice a year, then they would have little trouble from their teeth. But most people only keep their teeth half clean and won't go to a dentist until toothache drives them and so their teeth decay and although most people don't realize this their general health is seriously impaired.

The most serious result of neglect of one's teeth is a disease called pyorrhea—which causes the teeth to become loosened from the gums which are inflamed and sore. Unless treated in time people suffering from this disease will lose their teeth entirely.

People afflicted with this disease also suffer from stomach trouble for their gums and teeth are so sore that to chew the food well is practically impossible. Added to this the system is apt to be more or less poisoned by the discharges from the inflamed gums.

By having the teeth examined frequently the dentist can detect signs of pyorrhea in time to treat the teeth and gums and to check the disease, but where pyorrhea is allowed to go neglected until it has reached an advanced stage then it is curable only by the exercise of much fortitude and patience.

WOMEN AND THRIFT

Canadian Women Have Chance to Lead, But do They?

Thrift! Thinking men and women are talking a very great deal about thrift these days. Wherever bankers meet economy and thrift are treated much as a mother would fondle twins. In England to-day this Thrift talk is more emphatic. But what do we find? To all outward intents it is as seed sown upon barren ground.

Women flock to Patriotic Bridges and Five Hundred parties. The $1 or $2 ticket which they buy is no more than a cloak to society functions as before the war. With millions of Belgians, homeless and penniless, with thousands of Serbians, ragged and desolate, with millions of Poles destitute and famine-stricken these so-called patriotic women deny themselves nothing. Do they come to the Patriotic Bridges in simple clothes? No! Dame Fashion reigns as ever. Mrs. So-and-So wears a catin, so Mrs. Blank dons chapeau, and Mrs. Smith de Smith "looks distinguished in a handsome lace robe." The very next day at another Patriotic Bridge, the same women appear—but in other and perhaps more lovely, more expensive clothes.

Ah, yes, this is a time for thrift—but who will lead the way? Brilliant accounts are written of the brilliant opening of Parliament, and of the brilliant state dinner at Rideau Hall, for instance. The Duchess and the Princess are most beautifully gowned—different gowns on each occasion. Indeed, seldom do either the Duchess or the Princess appear in a previously seen costume. Their wardrobes must be extensive. So, if Royalty follows Fashion's dictates, then, too, must the Climbers! Canadian women can be leaders in this great Thrift problem. Will they?—Beck's Weekly.

PRINCESS MARY'S BEADS

Fashion Set by Royalty Has Many Outlandish Developments

Princess Mary is largely responsible for the present revival of the colored bead necklace, her Royal Highness being very clever at stringing together the pretty colored beads into attractive designs. At a time when little jewelry is being worn, and less bought in London, there is certainly a brisk demand for the long ropes of Venetian and other beads mingled with many-colored quartz, jade and semi-precious stones. Some of the ropes displayed in the West End shops put even the loudest examples of the bead craze of the early days of this century to shame. Chunks of amber as big as a hen's egg, for instance, are included among the vari-colored minerals to be found in some of the necklaces.

How to Preserve Meat

For 100 pounds of meat mix one ounce of saltpetre with about four ounces of salt. Rub this well into fleshy side of meat. Pack in a barrel fleshy side up. Sprinkle salt on bottom of barrel before meat is packed in. In three or four weeks take out meat and pour brine out of barrel. Rub on more salt if necessary and pack as before.

Maitre d'Hotel Butter

Cream 1/4 cup butter, 1/4 teaspoon salt, a few grains cayenne, 1/4 teaspoon finely chopped parsley, and 1/4 tablespoon lemon juice, drop by drop, stirring constantly.

School children should be taught the prevention and fire protection.

Stallions! Stallions!

Percherons, Belgians and Clydes

We have a choice bunch of young, sound, stallions, ranging in age from two to five years, weighing up to 2,300 lbs. The two-year-old stallions are one of the best investments you can possibly make.

If you have a small bunch of mares, you can breed all of your own and a few of your neighbors, and not have to depend on outside service, at the same time your horse is growing into money.

The four and five year old stallions are in the pink of condition and are ready to go right into heavy service.

All these horses have the best of breeding with lots of size and quality and are sold with a guarantee.

If interested in breeding good horses get in touch with us. We will give good terms to reliable parties, and take horses or cattle in trade if desired.

THE COMLYN ALIBI

— BY —

HEADON HILL

WARD, LOCK & CO., LIMITED

London, Melbourne, and Toronto

The inspector whistled. "Then you were at that flash hell with Sir Saville's knowledge in aid of the law, sir?" he asked.

"In furtherance of an object which I was discussing with Sir Saville this morning. It is out of your rut, but you have probably heard of the Morgan murder, at Comlyn, in Cornwall?"

"Oh yes—an interesting case."

"Well," proceeded Kenyon, "I went to Gaspard's to look for a man. I wanted that stupid ass to identify me. He wasn't there, and then this red coat came along and spikes my gun when every minute is of value. It won't save the murderer in the end, but unless you give me facilities a very charming girl will be married to the murderer tomorrow morning in Cornwall. Even if you break your rule I doubt if I can stop it now."

"Come to the telephone, sir," said the inspector shortly.

The usual delays occurred before a sleepy voice, quickly gathering alertness, came back over the wires from Surbiton.

"Sir Saville expressed his disappointment that Kenyon had not returned to Scotland Yard before he left for the day. The domiciliary visit of two of his best men to the house in Segur Road, Hampstead, had had excellent results. Morgan had undoubtedly prepared an alibi in that quarter. The people at the house were prepared to swear that he had slept there on the nights before and after Mrs. Morgan's murder, but the persons interviewed had been recognized by one of the detectives as ex-convicts. On the strength of this, Sir Saville, when Kenyon did not turn up, had despatched a trusted officer to confer with the local police at St. Brannock's, which place he would reach early in the morning. The future course would depend on his inquiries. As yet there was nothing to justify Morgan's arrest."

Kenyon briefly explained his own position, and a heartless laugh vibrated into the receiver.

"Let the inspector come to the phone," Sir Saville's merriment tailed off, while Kenyon vowed vengeance for that laughter at no distant date.

But five minutes later he was out in the street in the company of the indignant Taplin, who had also, as he would probably have put it, "been set at large" again. Kenyon glanced at his watch by the light of a lamp.

"You had better go back to Slough, Taplin," he said. "It has been a pleasure to work with you, but you won't be wanted again till you are officially notified to identify Sir Anthony West and his lady companion. Good night!"

Without waiting to hear Taplin's protest against being stranded in London at four o'clock in the morning in a hired suit of clothes, Kenyon turned on his heel and walked to his chambers. He was in no hurry, for he knew that he could not leave for Cornwall before the 5.50 from Paddington, which would not get him to St. Brannock's till one o'clock in the afternoon—an hour after the time set for the ceremony. But he had to be on the spot as quickly as steam could carry him. Sir Saville's detective who had preceded him might have changed the complexion of affairs, and the curate, Clegg, to whom for two days he had been a spurious parent, was a force with which the enemy had to reckon.

"A good sportsman, Clegg," Kenyon thought, "I cannot imagine him reading the marriage service over those two even with a pistol at his head," Kenyon muttered as he locked the door of his chambers and betook himself to the streets.

He had to walk as far as Charing Cross before he could charter one of the cabs meeting the night traffic, and it was half past five when he arrived at Paddington with twenty minutes to the good. If those twenty minutes could only have been at the other end of the journey he would have blessed his luck. As it was he cursed the delay while the great express engine snorted and panted its own eagerness to be gone.

But the train drew out into the dawn-light at last, and with a sigh of relief, Kenyon, who had a compartment to himself, stretched his legs on the seat for a much-needed sleep. He was being whirled along between Bristol and Exeter, when he was awakened by the restaurant car conductor with an invitation to breakfast, and by the time when, mightily refreshed, he returned to his compartment, the train was rushing along the western side of the Exe valley. He lit his pipe and tried henceforward to reduce the flying miles by reading the morning papers he had bought at Paddington, but it was a laggard journey at best, and the nearer Cornwall the slower the train, doing its sixty miles an hour, seemed to crawl.

The clock in the market square at St. Brannock's was striking one when at length he left the train and, carrying out his plan, made his way to the police station. Eager as he was to reach Comlyn, it was necessary to wait until the Scotland Yard man sent down by Sir Saville Weldon. That sleuth had been bidden to confer with the local police, and he would be soonest heard of at the bureau presided over by the fat and fussy Noakes. Such were the adjuncts applied by Kenyon to the officer into whose clutches he had nearly fallen in Levens' pantry when masquerading as the boy—snatching tramp.

"All he said, I don't believe," Noakes is such a fool as he looks," he told himself, repeating of his description. "There was a sort of torpid strength about the fellow not wholly dependent on a beer-fed mind. He struck me as a man performing routine duties which clashed with a preconceived idea that had been baulked. I fancy that he resented the set-back, the nature of which he did not possess the necessary details to read aright. We shall see."

"All that Kenyon was able to see at St. Brannock's police station was the Superintendent's deputy—a pudging-faced sergeant who eyed him with undisguised suspicion till he produced his card and explained that he really did not wish to see Mr. Noakes so much as a gentleman who had started from London to see Mr. Noakes the previous evening."

The sergeant thawed immediately. "I've got a message for you, sir," he said. "If you turned up, you tell you that the superintendent and the gentleman had driven over in the police dog cart to Comlyn, and that you were to follow as quickly as you could."

"Right!" said Kenyon, turning to go. "I'll nip over to Comlyn as fast as one. 'The Angel' bics will carry me. There is no quicker way of getting there, is there? No cars for hire?"

"Not for hire, sir," was the reply. "But you might get Doctor Kyrle to drive you over, if you can get the right side of him. He jogs about in a little two-seater that's as fast as any crock in 'The Angel' stables. Can't give it a better character than that."

Again Kenyon turned to go, but the meek sergeant stayed him. "I was to inform you, sir," he delivered himself with official pomposity, "that Sir Anthony West came down by the same train as the gentleman from London who called on Mr. Noakes early this morning. The gentleman knew him by sight and saw that Sir Anthony started to walk across the moor to Comlyn. Mr. Noakes thought that might be useful to you if you turned up, as he was very much hoping."

"Where does this doctor man with the two-seater car live?" demanded Kenyon without comment.

The sergeant told him, and a couple of minutes later he was ringing the surgery bell. Kenyon introduced himself as a friend of Sir Anthony West, came down on urgent business in conjunction with an officer from Scotland Yard, whom he was most anxious to join at Comlyn. Would the doctor drive him there in his car? Dr. Kyrle, an elderly man, but hard as nails and seasoned by samples of Cornish weather, merely nodded and said that he would fetch the car round. Not another word did he utter till they were spinning merrily towards the fishing village on the coast.

"It is good to hear that a friend of Tony West is acting with Scotland Yard," he disabused himself at last. "I brought the young rip into the world, and you can take it from an old medico who has known the Wests of Western Abbey all his long life, that they are not thieves and murderers. There has been devil's work going on at Comlyn. Mr. Kenyon, these weeks past. That marriage, which must be over by now for satisfaction, Miss Comlyn is another of my additions to the human race—the finest and best of all. There must have been some unholy influence at work. A case of Beauty and the Beast, my wife calls it. Too late to stop it, I suppose? The doctor's keen eyes left the road for a second of swift inquiry."

"Unless something out of my reckoning has happened over yonder," replied Kenyon. "Miss Comlyn has a good friend in Clegg, the curate, who was to tie the horrible knot, and I have just learned at the police station that Tony himself is on the spot."

"Good Lord," ejaculated the doctor. "A pretty combination for a rheumatic general practitioner of sixty, though I am inclined to think that surgical knowledge may come in handy. What do you hope to do, Mr. Kenyon, if the marriage has been—funny word to use in the circumstances—solemnized?"

"To prevent Miss Comlyn" from going away with Morgan," Kenyon replied, restraining an impulse to mention the purchase of poison. While a ray of hope lingered he would not disclose the dread secret learned in the chemist's shop at St. Brannock's. "Morgan murdered his first wife, doctor," he went on. "If there is evidence enough to lock him up, which is very doubtful, it is the prime object. It will be better for that poor girl to be a murderer's widow than to live with one as his wife for a single day."

"That is a sound view," the doctor replied. "As you will have already perceived, this old petrol-perambulator is not a record breaker. It will be all over at the church by the time we reach the village. Where would you like me to set you down?"

Kenyon rapidly pondered the point. Where would the focus of disturbance be likely to be centred after the mockery of the sacred rite at the church? If this had been a normal wedding performed under normal conditions there would have been no hesitation in his answer. He would have asked his new friend to set him down at the bride's residence, where they would find a reception in full swing with half the county present. But knowing that the conditions were anything but normal, and that Morgan's sole object was the ratification of the compact which the radium might make him master of the radium rights, he cut the Dover House out of his itinerary. The Scotland Yard man, if the investigations of yesterday in the Segur Road, Hampstead, had borne good fruit, would probably have made for the mansion which he himself described as a nest of wrong 'uns—the house wherein Jasper Morgan, Zimbalist, Jevons and the other satellites had settled like locusts on the countryside.

"I think Comlyn Court will yield the best results, doctor," he made his reply to Kyrle's question. And quite likely, as you say, your surgical skill may come in handy. They are a toughy crowd at the Court. Leaving aside Morgan, there are two of the worst scoundrels in England there. As counsel, I have got one of them seven years' penal servitude and saved the other from a longer sentence. They may fight like cornered rats. I hope I haven't choked you off, Doctor Kyrle, but you ought to know what I may have let you in for."

"Choked me off?" the doctor clenched his teeth grimly. He said no more, but in eloquent silence set off at a cooing the last inch of speed out of the rattle trap rival of the crocks in the stables of the St. Brannock's hotel.

Will Aid Veterans

Australian Forces and Dependents Receive Assistance From Government

Melbourne. — Under the provisions of the war service act which is now in force, members of the Australian land and sea forces and their dependents will receive assistance to a maximum of $3,500 from the government, toward obtaining their own homes.

The act provides that soldiers, sailors and nurses who served abroad, widows and unmarried dependents of soldiers and sailors, and the mothers of soldiers and sailors whose husbands have been incapacitated, may acquire dwellings and land from the state on a rent purchase system at cost, plus five per cent. The payments may be made weekly or monthly, and can extend over a period of from 20 to 37 years.

Refuses to Fight

Three Bolshevik Divisions in Siberia Withdrawn From Front

London. — Telegrams from Omsk report that the troops of Admiral Kolchak, 33 miles south of Sterlet, Amak, inflicted severe losses on the enemy, capturing many prisoners, machine guns and ten heavy guns. They also captured Starapul with great booty and a number of Bolshevik leaders.

Demoralization of the Bolsheviks is reported to be growing. Three Bolshevik divisions refused to fight and have been withdrawn from the front. The peasants of the Viatka government and some of the districts on the River Kama have revolted against the Bolshevik government.

Importance of Cattle Industry

That Alberta breeders appreciate the possibilities of the livestock industry is shown by their willingness to pay high prices for suitable animals. This was again exemplified at a sale of Shorthorn cattle at Brandon, Manitoba, last week, when Charles Beeching, of Do-Winton, purchased a yearling Shorthorn heifer for $3,100, and another animal for $3,000. It is rarely that the two highest prices at a sale are paid by the same person, but this is what occurred at Brandon. Altogether Mr. Beeching purchased seven head of cattle at this sale at a total cost of $9,000. At the sale a total of eighty-seven animals were sold at a total price of $52,875.

Farm Help Needed

Moore Jaw, Sask. — About 2,000 men are required in connection with spring work on the land of the province. The employment offices have 667 unfilled applications for men, and with the near approach of seeding this number will increase very largely.

Shorthorns for Cross-Breeding

Shorthorn Blood a Decided Advantage in Winning Premier Honors

The value of the Shorthorn for crossing on other breeds is well known, and a large proportion of prize-winning steers in the selections for grades and crosses at our leading shows, carry Shorthorn blood in their veins.

Crossing the Hereford and Shorthorn has produced some of the most noted herds in the Panhandle country of Texas. See "Shorthorn-Cattle," by Sanders.

Perhaps the most noted cross is that of the Shorthorn with the black polled cattle of Scotland, the result being the so-called "prime Scots," which have been favorites for a great many years with both farmers and butchers in Great Britain. This cross has a growthiness and readiness to fatten which pleases the cattle feeder and swells his bank account. No other breed has proven equal to the Shorthorn for crossing with the Angus and Galloway.

Unfortunately for the Shorthorn, it does not stamp its color upon its progeny when crossed with other breeds to the extent that the Hereford, Aberdeen-Angus, and Galloway impress their color. In this way the Shorthorn loses a great deal of the credit which is its due, when cross-breeds are upon exhibition. For example, at the 1918 International Exhibition in Chicago, the grand champion carload were advertised as Hereford, because they had the Hereford color, but they carried a strong infusion of Shorthorn blood which was a decided advantage to them in winning premier honors. Also, the group of three steers winning first in the grade and crossbred specials, were black and hornless, but their sire was a Shorthorn bull, and they owed much of their excellence to this fact.

Though he is not a good advertiser from the standpoint of transmitting his color, the Shorthorn bull transmits the excellent qualities of the breed to a marked degree, and effects improvement wherever he is used. G. E. Day, Sec. Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Assn., C. M. P.

Feeding Russia

French Press Showing Hostile Attitude Toward Revictualing Plan

Paris. — Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, head of the commission to feed Russia, is having difficulty in getting in touch with Nikolai Lenin, the Russian Bolshevik premier, concerning the revictualing of Russia, on condition that the Bolsheviks cease hostilities. The wireless service of the entente countries is apparently not available and a messenger will be sent to Norway to communicate Dr. Nansen's messages to Moscow. Consequently Lenin's reply will probably not be available for several days.

The French press is showing a hostile attitude toward the revictualing plan. One paper describes it as "Another Prinkipos," and several charge that it is an attempt by the United States to ingratiate themselves to obtain concessions, and "scout the suggestion of humane, rather than political motives."

Extend Exhibition Buildings

Regina, Sask. — The city council has accepted the report of the commissioners concerning extensions to the buildings of the industrial and agricultural exhibition association. This means that a new winter fair building will be erected at a cost of about $120,000. The summer exhibition, this year, will be on a more ambitious scale than before.

LOOK AT A CHILD'S TONGUE WHEN CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Take no chances! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once

Mother's and test easy after giving California Syrup of Figs. Because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, if tongue is coated, give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can't cause injury. No difference with all your little one, if full of cold, or sore throat, diarrhea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," and look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." It is in a smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

After Five Years Of Heart Trouble

Mrs. Brewer Turned to Dodd's Kidney Pills

Now She Is Telling Her Friends Who Advised Their Use the Good, Dodd's Kidney Pills Have Done.

Imrie, Alta., April 28th. (Special.) — Advised by her friends to use Dodd's Kidney Pills for heart trouble from which she had suffered for five years, Mrs. Marie Brewer, well-known and highly respected here, is telling how much she benefited from the treatment.

Heart trouble is nearly always caused by defective kidneys, which fall in their work of straining the impurities out of the blood. The work of the heart is made too hard when it has to propel blood thick with impurities to all parts of the body. The result is, of course, weakness and disease.

That Mrs. Brewer's trouble came from her kidneys is shown by her symptoms. "I suffered from rheumatism, gravel, stiffness of the joints, backache and headache," she states. "My sleep was broken and unrefreshing. I was nervous and my limited swelled. My skin itched and burned at night. I was after a doctor but failed to cure me. I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. I must admit they did me a lot of good."

Japan Offers to Curb Reds

If She Receives a Mandate for Indo-China

Paris. — The Japanese general staff has made an offer to Premier Clemenceau to stamp out Bolshevism throughout Russia, but has asked as the price that France give Indo-China to Japan. It is said that when the United States refused to sanction an inter-allied expeditionary force against the Bolshevik Premier, Clemenceau asked Viscount Chinda what Japan could do about crushing Bolshevism.

Chinda cabled to Tokio and received a reply that the general staff could map out operations for ending the control of Lenin and Trotsky in Russia within two months. The French, then asked the Japanese if a slice of Siberia would be acceptable as payment.

The Japanese replied in the negative, saying that Japan was friendly to Russia and did not wish to incur Russian enmity by taking any Russian territory but would undertake to set up a stable Russian government, which would repay the French loans and protect French finance, in return for France ceding Indo-China to Japan.

This proposition was not acceptable to France, so the deal fell through.

It is reported that Japan has made an offer to England to send troops to Russia and bear the expenses of the expedition alone if she receives a mandate for Indo-China. The French received the former German colonies as compensation.

European Market

For Poultry

Demand for Poultry Products Will Be on the Increase

A French poultry expert, according to figures received by the Canadian trade commission, states that there is an urgent need in France for 3,000,000 breeding hens at present. It is estimated that egg and poultry production there in the last four years has decreased 50%. Over 6,000 hens have been given by British traders to help the restoration work in Northern France.

Conditions in Poland are said to be such that hundreds of thousands of fowls are wanted, and British experts are advocating that the newer breeds be at once introduced into the devastated areas.

The trade commission suggests to poultry men and farmers a continuance of the greater production campaign of last year. The cheapening of foodstuffs is in the foreground.

Canadian exports of eggs in 1918 rounded off at 4,990,000 dozen, one-half the quantity exported sixteen years ago. Great Britain alone has received the same amount of 1918, 1919 and 1920.

One broad idea which the trade commission is trying to impress on the agricultural and manufacturing interests is that the present emergency demand in Europe should be regarded as the stepping stone to permanent trade. The field in the poultry trade will be ample for some years to come.

Japanese Disappointed

Tokio. — The report from Paris that the plea of the Japanese delegates for the inclusion in the covenant of the league of nations of a clause providing for racial equality had failed of approval has caused great disappointment in Japan.

The move says that Japan should refuse to join the league of nations, but the majority of the newspapers declare that Japan must face the situation bravely and steadfastly and endeavor to enhance the national prestige and prestige.

A Winter's Harvest

Make Money by Feeding Stock During the Winter Months

Many farmers in Western Canada make considerable money by feeding stock during the winter months. Here is a typical example of what is often done along these lines.

Last October Mr. George W. Quinn, who farms about 1,400 acres of land near Macgregor, Man., purchased seventy-nine head of steers on the Winnipeg market at an average cost of ten and a half cents a pound. They were Shorthorn and Hereford grades, and their average weight was nine hundred and seventy pounds each. After four months' feeding they increased about one hundred and fifty pounds each in weight and were sold for fifteen and a half cents a pound, yielding a net profit, after deduction of freight, commission and cost of feeding, of $3,795.10, or $46.90 per steer.

For many years Mr. Quinn has made it a practice to feed a few cattle on his farm each winter, and for this purpose grows plenty of fodder. He has proved by experience that good cattle make as good gains on coarse western grains as on corn. He does not pamper his cattle, but allows them to roam and feed in the open most of the time, providing only cheap open sheds for shelter.

When they came from the market, the steers were put on timothy and aftermath. The stubble fields and summerfallow were also used for about six weeks. From December 1 they were given a gradually increasing ration of oat sheaves and barley. The total gain, which amounted to about one and a half pounds a day over the whole period, is indicative of the feeding value of Western Canadian grains and grasses.

Seeking Wheat

To Resist Black Rust

And Mature Early Enough to Escape Fall Frosts

Saskatoon, Sask. — For many months experiments have been under way at the college of agriculture, university of Saskatchewan, to find a wheat which will resist black rust, and at the same time mature early enough to escape the fall frosts.

W. D. Thompson, professor of biology for over two years, has been testing and breeding wheats with the object of producing wheat with these qualifications, plus good milling, high yield and other good points possessed by Marquis wheat. W. P. Fraser, formerly of Macdonald college, Quebec, who for two years has been engaged on similar experiments for the Dominion government is now carrying on his experiments here.

Black Watch

Both men are working independently, but are using the same greenhouses. Considerable progress has been made by Dr. Thompson, and several varieties have been found which were highly rust resistant, but only one all of whose individuals were highly resistant.

Shock Left Her Weak and Nervous

COULD NOT SLEEP

When the system receives a shock of any kind, the heart becomes weakened, the nerves unstrung, the appetite poor, faint and weak feelings come over you, you can't sleep at night, and you wonder if life is worth living.

To all those who suffer from nervous shock we would recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, as the remedy to tone up the entire system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. J. J. Bunyan, Pilot Butte, Sask., writes:—"I have used Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills after having suffered from a terrible shock to my whole system. I was so utterly weak, and nervous I could not sleep at night, and my appetite was very poor. I could not walk across the floor without trembling all over."

I had hot flashes and fainting spells.

When I was on the second box of your Heart and Nerve Pills, I began to sleep.

I am never without them in the house, and highly recommend them to all who suffer with their hearts. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50¢ a box at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

To Increase Elevator Capacity

Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company to Meet Rapidly Increasing Growth

The two and a half million bushel capacity terminal elevator which was opened at Port Arthur at the head of the Great Lakes last year by the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, is already proving inadequate to meet the rapidly increasing growth of the business of this farmers' organization.

To the plant as originally built a year ago the Saskatchewan farmers have already added a hospital elevator, for the treatment of on-grade grain, with a capacity of 650,000 bushels, the only public hospital elevator at the head of the lakes, into which the first load of grain was taken a few days ago. It is now proposed to meet the rapidly increasing demands made on the company's terminal facilities by construction work which will give to the terminal storage warehouse an added capacity of 2,000,000 bushels. Plans have been approved for this addition which will involve an expenditure of $500,000.

"Black Watch" The Best Black Plug Chewing Tobacco on the Market

Worthy Your Attention!

At the annual meeting of the Davidson, the managing Director announced that the Directors had decided to place Davidson on a producing basis of magnitude.

An up-to-the-minute mill is to be installed on the property with a capacity of 150 tons, and judging from the estimate of ore already blocked off and the new ore body recently uncovered on the 500 foot level—the mine should become one of the foremost producers in the Porcupine Camp!

Davidson is one of the very few substantial houses on the board today selling below par. Davidson offers a lucrative opportunity for a speculative return and yet intrinsically is an out-and-out investment of the first order.

"Oh, I'm very much attached to you," replied the prisoner, promptly.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezezone is an ether compound, which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MAY 4 — MAN MADE IN THE IMAGE OF GOD

1. The Creation of Man. (Gen. 1:26-28).

1. Time—when the earth, his home, was ready for him. The order in creation shows design on the part of God. He anticipated man's need in storing the coal in the earth, piling up minerals in the rocks, storing electricity everywhere, causing the water to gush from the valleys and hillsides preparing plants and herbs for the healing of man's injuries and food and raiment adapted to every climatic condition.

2. His nature (v. 26, 27). He was created in the likeness and image of God. This act was preceded by a special counsel of the Godhead. It was said, "Let us make man." This precludes the foolish and wicked assumption that man ascended from or through the brute. He came into being by a special creative act of God. This creative act is confirmed by Christ (Matt. 19:4; Mark 10:6). With such testimony we can dismiss the evolution theory as to man's origin as a human vagary. This likeness and image is not physical and bodily, but intellectual. (Eph. 4:24) and moral. (Col. 3:10). Man is spirit, soul and body (1 Thess. 5:23). God's likeness is reflected in man's tripartite nature. As there is a trinity and unity in God, so there is a trinity and unity in man. Spirit is the highest part of man, that which makes it possible for him to know God. The soul is man's self-conscious life, the seat of his emotions and desires. The body is the seat of the sense, the agency by which he knows the world. God made man with a personality capable of having fellowship with himself, with whom he could share his glory.

3. His rank and power (v. 26, 28). Man, the last in creation, was placed above all else, over all the rest of creation. Being in the likeness and image of God, he was fitted to rule. How far short man comes of living up to the position given him by the Creator! The first man was not a savage, neither a baby. Fresh from the Creator's hands he possessed such lofty powers of intellect as to enable him to name the beasts as they passed before him (Gen. 2:19, 20).

2. Man Alone in Paradise. (Gen. 2:7-9).

Adam had a most beautiful place in which to live. "Pleasant to the eyes, and good for food," describes his surroundings. His environment was in keeping with his nature. Eden was only fit for him in an unfallen state. As soon as his nature was wrecked, out he must go. Paradise, with all its splendor could not satisfy him. His heart was desolate. Reciprocal love is the only thing that can satisfy the heart of man. Animals of all varieties surrounded him, but none were adapted to be his companions. To accentuate this need, God caused the animals to pass before Adam. He was differentiated from all the animals in that he was a personality. He was endowed with the power of love, therefore only a being who could love in return could satisfy him. To meet this need woman was made for man. They had minds alike; they had spiritual natures alike; therefore they could commune together about the things that surrounded them and about God.

Man was made from the dust of the ground and woman was taken from his side. She is therefore one removed further from the earth than man. The fact that woman was made from man's rib points to unity, similarity and equality. God charged this first pair with the responsibility of replenishing the earth (Gen. 1:28). Marriage is a divine institution and most sacred; for God made them male and female and performed the first marriage ceremony. In view of this, polygamy and divorce are grossly criminal. Marriage is the fountain-head of life, religious, social and national, therefore corruption here is most fatal.

Budapest Fears Anarchy

Work Begun at Munition and War Material Factories

Budapest. — This city is going through a crisis worse than that of April 3. There is apprehension that there would be a violent swing to anarchy with the Socialists losing control to Bolshevik leaders like Bela Kun and chiefs of the Red Guard. Looting, which hitherto has been held in check, or legalized as the "nationalization of property," and the assassination of the old political leaders and the aristocrats are feared.

Reports are current that the Rumanians and Czechs have received orders from the allies to march on Budapest. This is increasing the uneasiness here. It is felt, however, that the Rumanians are advancing merely to occupy the territory set aside for them by the allied note of March 20, which resulted in the resignation of Count Michael Krolyi, former premier.

The fact that the communists are unable to prevent the allies from occupying the districts involved is weakening the influence of Bela Kun and is causing violent hatred against the allies among the Hungarians.

London. — In obedience to orders from the soldiers and workmen's council work was begun at munition and war material factories in and around Budapest, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Mail.

Evolving a New Breed of Sheep

Experiment May Have an Important Bearing on Sheep Industry

A start has been made in an interesting experiment that may possibly have a most important bearing on the sheep industry of Western Canada. It is no less than the evolution of an entirely new breed of sheep. This is being undertaken by R. C. Harvey, of Lethbridge, one of Alberta's foremost sheep raisers. The culmination of the plan will take eleven years, by which time Mr. Harvey hopes to introduce an entirely new breed of sheep—a breed peculiarly fitted for Alberta conditions, strong both in wool and mutton qualities.

The new type is being bred up by a careful selection of the breeding ewes from cross breeds of Rambouillet rams and Romney ewes. Every two years will see a step taken towards the object, and as it will take six crosses to fix the type, the whole process will cover eleven years.

Mr. Harvey has been experimenting with a Rambouillet and Romney cross breed sheep for a number of years. Wool from his cross breeds last year brought the highest average price on the American market, his best wool selling for over seventy-eight cents a pound. He is the owner of one of the largest, if not the largest flocks of pure bred Romney sheep on the American continent, having four hundred of them, all of which, with the exception of the spring lambs, are registered.

An Underground School

Returned Soldiers Get Instruction in Idaho Mine

Boise, Idaho. — Idaho boasts a school unique among its education institutions, a Smith-Hughes vocational school, conducted 1400 feet beneath the surface of the earth. This school is at the Morning Mine, at Kellogg, Idaho, and the persons enrolled are in the main returned soldiers who are learning the elements of actual mining underground. The class is conducted by Frank Skeels, a mining engineer with long experience in practical mining. Instruction is also given to classes above ground, but this is purely practical work in running a drift, operating air compressors, mucking, and like tasks.

"Strike Treasury Notes"

Finance Commission of Limerick to Issue Its Own Money

Limerick. — The general strike here incident to the proclamation of Limerick as a military area, assumed a new and interesting phase when the finance commission of the Limerick trades and labor council announced that it was preparing to issue its own money in the form of one shilling and ten shilling notes, which would be used in the purchase of food for the 14,000 strikers. The money is called "Strike treasury notes" and is secured by the stock of food which it is proposed to purchase with the financial gifts reaching Limerick from other parts of Ireland and by the "integrity of the workers of Limerick."

Success of Siberian Army

Endangers Entire Bolshevik Position in Eastern Russia

London. — The Siberian army of Admiral Kolchak's government, in making an advance of 190 miles in five weeks on the Ural-front, has achieved a success which endangers the entire Bolshevik position in eastern Russia. According to advices from Omsk the Siberians are now within 100 miles of the Volga, the most important river of Russia, and the new successes on the River Kama, in the centre of the 400 mile front, make untenable the Bolshevik positions east of the Volga. The Bolshevik forces opposed to the allies in north Russia and those facing General Denekine in south Russia are affected seriously by the advance.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

There is no medicine for little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative; pleasant to take; do not gripe and never fail to relieve the little one of constipation, indigestion, colic or any of the other minor ailments. Concerning them, Mrs. J. S. Monzerolle, Ed. River Bridge, N.B., writes: "I believe Baby's Own Tablets are the finest medicine for little ones I have ever used. From my own experience I would recommend every mother to keep a box on hand." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or, by mail, 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Is Your Nose Plugged? Have You Catarrh?

If Subject to Colds, Here Is Real Good Advice

Don't load your stomach with cough syrups. Send healing medication through the nostrils—send it into the passages that are subject to colds and catarrh. Easy to do with Catarrhazone, which cures a cold in ten minutes. Even to the lungs goes the healing vapor of Catarrhazone—all through the bronchial tubes, nostrils and air passages—everywhere a trace of disease remains will Catarrhazone follow. You'll not have colds, nor will you suffer from sniffles, bronchitis, or throat trouble if Catarrhazone is used. Get it today, but beware of dangerous substitutes meant to deceive you for genuine Catarrhazone. Large size, two months' treatment, 60c; $1.00; small size, 50c; sample size, 25c; all dealers or The Catarrhazone Co., Kingston, Canada.

Survey Cattle Grazing Location
Calgary, Alta. — A. T. Cooper, from Fossil, Oregon, has arrived at Peace River to survey the country with the view of locating a cattle grazing location. Mr. Cooper has a herd of Herefords, which he purposes moving into the north Alberta country. He will probably go north down the Peace to the Battle river district where there is lots of open grazing country and a plentiful supply of hay available to be put up each season for winter feed.

To Relieve Unemployment

Allies May Supply Raw Materials to German Factories

Paris. — The supreme economic council will meet to consider proposals to grant a limited supply of raw materials, notably cotton, to Germany, to enable the factories there to start work and to relieve the unemployment, which is said to be at the bottom of much of the disorder in Germany. The council, it is said, also will revise regulations for German exports required to pay for food imports and probably will discuss the new economic situation created by the slackening of the blockade regulations as applied to Germany's neutral neighbors.

Greeks Repatriated

Washington. — Repatriation of nearly 60,000 Greeks, who were removed from their homes during the war by the Bulgars, has been practically completed. Reports received at American Red Cross headquarters here said that the Bulgars tried in every way possible to impede the repatriation work and endeavored to conceal the fact that thousands of the Greeks had died during their internment from starvation and exposures.

New System for Water Supply

Regina, Sask. — Moose Jaw is moving to secure a new source and system for its water supply. At a public meeting there recently it seemed to be the general opinion of the members of the board of trade that the only solution for a permanent water supply was going to be the Saskatchewan river, and that a system could be completed for $4,000,000.

Catarrh and Dyspepsia

Undermined the System and the Nerve Gave Way—Hospital Treatment Failed—Read How Cure Was Effected

Preeceville, Sask., April 29. — This letter will give you an idea of what you may expect from this combined treatment for catarrh. While Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder affords relief from the stuffed-up air passages, headaches and annoying symptoms of catarrh, the Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the system, so that the disease is entirely overcome. This is the ideal treatment for catarrh, and its ravages on the human system.

Mr. Ed. L. Jones, Preeceville, Sask., writes: "I suffered for some time with catarrh and dyspepsia and my nervous system became quite run down. My food disagreed with me, and I was constantly bothered with indigestion. I also suffered from frequent headaches. I tried several doctors, and was in the hospital for a time, but could get no relief from any treatment until I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Catarrh Powder. This combined treatment has done wonders for me. I never have a headache now, and am feeling fine. The Nerve Food has built up my system, and the Catarrh Powder, which I am still using, is helping my catarrh greatly. I intend to continue its use until completely cured."

"I may also state that I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills splendid for weak or lame back."

This is to certify that I am personally acquainted with Mr. Ed. Jones, and believe his statement regarding Dr. Chase's Medicines to be true and correct. — Mr. George Downs, J.P.

Ill-Feeling in Italy

Allied Opposition to Dalmatian Claims Causes Trouble

London. — A dispatch to the Daily News from Rome, delayed, states: "There is a great deal of ill feeling in Italy against England and America, because of their opposition to this country's Dalmatian claims. President Wilson gets most of the blame because he is reported to have refused the demand that Fiume should be assigned to Italy, so delayed the conclusion of peace and contributed to the failure of the league of nations by trying to reconcile it with the Monroe Doctrine."

The traditional friendship between England and Italy, judging from the attitude of the press, no longer exists. In fact, not only have the Italians discovered British "atrocities" in Ireland, India and Egypt, and started commenting on most unfavorable incidents, but long editorials are published daily, evidently with the tacit approval of the government, explaining that England entered the war to make money, to get the German colonies, crush Germany, capture the world's markets, and to increase her own power. It is useless to conceal the fact that the difficulties in the way of re-establishment of commercial relations between Italy and Germany have in a great measure been removed.

Freight Service to Antwerp

Montreal. — Although conditions are still very unsettled in Belgium, the Canadian Pacific ocean services will experiment with a freight service to Antwerp this season, the first sailing announced being from Montreal on or about May 14. It is not expected that there will be much in the way of export from Belgium for some time to come, since such products as that country can turn out will be required internally during the period of reconstruction. It is the intention of the Canadian Pacific ocean services to run a fortnightly service to Antwerp from Montreal if the traffic warrants it.

The miners own the Fernie District Ledger, which has a subscription list of 2,500 and sells at $1.50 a year. They have now learned it cost them $1.63 per year for each paper and their auditor's report shows a net loss of $1,360 for the year on all their business, which included subscriptions, advertising and job printing. The editor complains "the financial worries of the position I hold are not conducive to the exertation of my best efforts on the editorial end of the paper". This explains why all editors wear diamonds and always have money —no?

In a demonstration at Martinsville this week in which nine machines took part, the Moline Universal finished its lead of one and one-third acres five minutes ahead of its nearest competitor and each tractor was pulling three plows instead of two as for us. The official time showed that it plowed an acre in fifty and one-half minutes, at a cost of fifty-six cents per acre for fuel. GENERAL SUPPLIES LIMITED, CALGARY, ALTA. 7

Accompanied by the town clerk the new health officer made an inspection of the town last week and ordered that all manure, etc., be at once removed to the nuisance grounds. They state that unless their requests are promptly complied with summons to court will be issued forthwith.
